The institution's rules and regulations shall indicate inmate allowance of purchase, receipt, and use of personal radios and TV's, and schedule of programs.

Radio and TV receivers may be placed in the housing units, dining rooms, recreation areas, hospital or therapy rooms, and barber shops, or other appropriate locations in the institution as approved by the Administrators.

State-owned television sets shall be available to give the privilege of viewing to authorized inmate groups. Where conditions permit, all available TV channels shall be shown to allow for individual taste and variety.

Movies may be shown in the institutions to those inmates who are eligible in accordance with the institution's rules and regulations and availability of funds.

All personally owned inmate property will be at the owner's risk, a stipulation of which he/she shall be informed.
